Guidelines for Catechesis of Youth Grades 6 to 8

Approaching Ministry with Youth

In 1997, the National Conference of Catholic Bishops published a Renewing the Vision and update and reflection on the of the ground-breaking 1972 A Vision of Youth Ministry. Both of these documents emphasized the importance of a comprehensive approach to ministry with youth -- a ministry that does not strictly focus on catechesis or community but on forming well-rounded disciples.

Parish ministry to youth should strive to include the following components:

- Evangelization - to seek out conversion of the spirit to the Spirit of God.
- Worship - to celebrate the sacraments with the youth and for them to engage in meaningful participation in the liturgical life of the community.
- Catechesis - to share the rich heritage of our faith, of the Scriptures and the teachings of the Church.
- Justice and Service - to provide opportunities for youth to serve the marginalized and poor and to empower them to strive for justice.
- Pastoral Care - to offer guidance to youth on life issues, to be a message of healing in times of pain, to reach out to the most marginalized of young people.
- Advocacy - to be aware of youth trends, needs of the local community, and to communicate these to others.
- Leadership Development - to pass on skills for leadership and to provide youth with real opportunities to take leadership roles.
- Community Building - to create a welcoming environment that promotes mutual support and fun.

These components need to be expressed in a variety of ministry settings: gathered events, non-gathered time, in the youth program, in parish life, in the home, and in the community at large.

In 1997 in an address at World Youth Day in Paris, Pope John Paul reminded the youth as he reminds us too:

> As disciples and friends of Jesus, become agents of dialogue and collaboration with those who believe in a God Who rules the universe with infinite love; be ambassadors of the Messiah you have found and know in His “dwelling,” the Church, so that many more young people may be able to follow in His footsteps; their way lighted by your fraternal charity and by the joy in your eyes that have contemplated Christ.

Our approach to ministry to youth should be evangelical in nature, pastoral in implementation, celebratory in spirit, and witnessed by action.

THE CATECHIST

☐ discusses relationships and is aware of dynamics within the class group
☐ provides various activities and discussion opportunities within each session ☐ challenges students to deal with the “what if...”
☐ does not engage in sarcastic behavior and strives to personally affirm each youth
☐ challenges youth to dialog on issues of justice and is not discouraged with black/white moral mentality
☐ provides opportunity for youth to take ownership in ministry program and in class sessions
☐ processes with the youth the formal moral teachings on the Church and the implications on their lives
☐ provides opportunities for real, hands-on service to Church and community
☐ discusses issues of God’s relationship with the youth and shares personal faith stories
☐ provides opportunities for youth to participate actively in the Liturgy and life of the Church
☐ provides structured opportunities for youth to discuss issues of sexuality, relationships, and morality
REVELATION
- God is so full of life and love that God is greater than any single image.
- God’s presence is revealed by the Holy Spirit, in the events of our lives, through creation, Scripture, and human history.
- God has no limits of time and space (Infinite).
- Jesus is the supreme and complete expression/revelation of who God is.
- God calls for us to respond as a community and as individuals in words and actions.
- The Church’s response in words is written in the Scriptures and in Church teaching.
- The Church’s response in action is in our worship and in our service to one another and the world.
- Faith is our free response to God.
- Faith and understanding of God must constantly grow.

SCRIPTURE
- Scripture provides many images of God.
- The Holy Spirit provided inspiration and guidance throughout the development of the Scriptures.
- Major themes of the Hebrew Scriptures are creation, covenant, exodus, prophecy, prayer, and exile.
- The key men and women in the Old Testament are Adam, Eve, Noah, Abraham, Sarah, Moses, David, the prophets, etc.
- The books of the New Testament are organized into the Gospels, the Acts of the Apostles, the Epistles, and the Book of Revelation.
- Major themes of the New Testament are God, discipleship, prayer, justice/peace, forgiveness, service, and the moral life.
- The key men and women in the New Testament are the Apostles, Mary, Joseph, Mary Magdalene, Martha and Mary, Paul, and Timothy.
- The writers of the Gospels, Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John, are called the Evangelists.
- The Scriptures help us to understand our call to Gospel discipleship and to explore what following Jesus and living the Good News means.
CREED

- God is a mystery to be explored not solved.
- God is three Persons, Trinity, yet one Being, God.
- God is very close to us and intimately involved in our lives.

- Through Confirmation we are sealed with the gifts of the Holy Spirit.
- Marriage and Holy Orders are Sacraments of vocation which celebrate adult commitment and service.
- Anointing of the Sick is the sacrament that strengthens those who are suffering from illness.
- Catechumen is the term used to identify one who is preparing for the Sacraments of Initiation: Baptism, Confirmation, and Eucharist.
- The process by which unbaptized adults and children of catechetical age are initiated into the Catholic community is called the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA).

PRAYER

- There are many styles of prayer within the Catholic tradition and several variations of each style.
- Our image of God influences our experience of prayer.
- We are called to pray continuously.
- Formal prayers that all members of the Church should know are the Our Father, the Hail Mary, the Glory Be, the Apostle’s and Nicene Creeds, acts of contrition, Come Holy Spirit, and the Sign of the Cross.
- Sometimes we have struggles with our ability to pray.
- God listens to our prayers.
- Each person needs to discover their personal prayer style.
- Dance, singing, art, etc. can also be forms of prayer.

LITURGICAL YEAR

- Sunday is our weekly celebration of Easter. It is the day of worship, rest, and community.
- The Church year is structured by liturgical seasons and feast days.
- The liturgical year starts with Advent.
- Advent is the four weeks of preparation before Christmas. It is time for growth in our understanding of Jesus.
- Christmas celebrates the Incarnation of Jesus, our Savior and Messiah!
- We celebrate that Jesus is God with us in the Paschal Mystery of His life, death, and resurrection.
- Lent begins on Ash Wednesday and is a forty day period of preparation for Easter.
- Lent for the baptized is a time of change of heart through prayer, fasting, and works of mercy to help us become more fully Christian.
- Lent for the RCIA elect/candidates is a time of intense spiritual formation.
- Triduum is the three days during Holy Week that celebrate the passion and resurrection of Jesus. The days of the Triduum are Holy Thursday, Good Friday, and Easter Sunday.
- Easter Sunday is the “Sunday of Sundays” and the ultimate celebration of the resurrection of Christ. (CCC
- Pentecost is celebrated 50 days after Easter and recalls the coming of the Holy Spirit.

FAITH AND IDENTITY

- Faith is a gift.
- Christ is the model of a completely faithful person.
- Faith demands risk.
- Faith is a way of looking at the world and how God interacts in it.
- Faith involves a relationship with God and an expression of this relationship.
- God reveals God's self in our everyday lives.
- Faith is an ongoing process of conversion.
- Doubt is a natural part of faith.

PERSONAL GROWTH

- Each person is born with the right to be treated with dignity and respect.
- Each person is a unique creation of God and is loved.
- Each person is called to live a life of holiness.
- Our talents and gifts are given to us to be shared for the service of others.
- We are challenged to replace our fears with God's love.
- God calls us to be the best person that God has created us to be.
- We can learn to respond to struggles and problems in light of the Gospel.
- There are skills for handling negative pressure.
- The desire to be loved and to love is a deep-seated and natural yearning.
- Human sexuality is a divine gift, a blend of spirit and body that shares in God's creative love and life.

RELATIONSHIPS

- Relationships are part of everyone's life.
- Responsible relationships are developed with an emphasis on honest, love, and respect.
- Our sexuality, as distinct from sexual activity, is an innate force that can draw us out of ourselves into loving relationships.
- There are many different kinds of relationships present in the Christian community.
- There are factors that mark healthy and unhealthy relationships.
- Responsible relationships involve honesty, love, and respect.
- Relationships can be enhanced through active listening, self-disclosure, and learning to communicate effectively with peers, family, and other adults.
- Jesus models healthy relationships through His life of service and teaching.
- There is value in modesty and chastity.
The Church is one, holy, catholic, and apostolic.

JUSTICE AND PEACE
- Jesus proclaimed freedom for all.
- The Scriptural vision of life includes a commitment to justice, peace, equality, and stewardship.
- We are called to conversion, and to live the vision, values, and lifestyle of the reign of God.
- We are called to recognize injustices in our communities and in our world.
- We are called to respect just authority that supports human rights and seeks to change structures that oppress people.
- Social justice draws its strength from Scripture, worship, prayer, and the People of God.
- Respecting dignity of the human person includes all issues that concern the sacredness of life in all its forms; eg, abortion, violence, discrimination, poverty, healthcare, euthanasia, etc.
- We are called to care for God’s creation and to live as good neighbors in the world community.

MORALITY
- The basis for moral decision-making for a Catholic includes a well formed conscience, an understanding of sin, and a desire of reconciliation.
- Conscience formation is a life-long process requiring development of skills for resolving moral dilemmas.
- To develop a well-formed conscience a person must:
  - study Scripture, the law of God, and Church teaching.
  - apply these teachings to daily life.
  - consider the consequences of the choices we make.
  - pray for guidance from the Holy Spirit.
  - act in accordance with our formed conscience.
- Mature persons take responsibility for their actions.
- Temptation to make selfish choices is not sinful. Deliberately choosing to make selfish choices is sinful.
- Sin is primarily concerned with deliberately damaging relationships, not breaking laws.
- Mortal sin involves deliberate choices which are so serious they are capable of destroying our relationship with God and others, because our freedom has the power to make some choices forever, with no turning back.
- Venial sin refers to sins which weaken our relationship with God and others.

CHRISTIAN LIFESTYLE
- Each of us is called to a particular lifestyle.
- Gospel values help us make personal, social, political, and economic choices.
- Learning to think independently is a necessary step toward adulthood.
- Skills for effective conflict resolution can be developed.
- Jesus’ life of service and teaching show us how to live a life of loving service to others.
- Serving others is an essential element of discipleship.
- Christian lifestyles include single people, married people, vowed religious brothers/sisters, and ordained deacons/priests/bishops.
- As Church we all have the mission to witness, worship, build community, and serve as Jesus did.
