

CATHOLIC DIOCESE of RALEIGH SOCIAL MEDIA CODE OF CONDUCT POLICY

All posts and comments should be marked by Christian charity and respect for the truth. Please keep discussions on topic, presume the goodwill of others, and engage from a perspective rooted in our Catholic faith.

This page is a moderated space intended for constructive conversation. Inappropriate or objectionable comments may be limited or removed at the discretion of the Diocese of Raleigh or site administrators, including (but not limited to) the following:

- Personal attacks, harassment, threats, or demeaning language toward individuals or groups
- Vulgar, profane, sexually explicit, racist or violent content
- Repeated or coordinated attacks, piling on or copy-and-paste campaigns
- Inflammatory content intended to antagonize or abuse
- Knowingly false or misleading claims, including misrepresentation of Church teaching
- Impersonation of clergy, diocesan staff or official Church entities
- Off-topic or spam-like comments that disrupt conversation
- Advertisements, solicitations or external links

Moderation actions may include removing or hiding comments, limiting replies or restricting repeat offenders.

Content submitted by users does not represent the official teaching of the Catholic Church or the official position of the Diocese of Raleigh.

(Abbreviated version)

All posts and comments should be marked by Christian charity and respect for the truth. Please keep discussions on topic, presume the goodwill of others, and engage from a perspective rooted in our Catholic faith.

This page is a moderated space intended for constructive conversation. Inappropriate or objectionable comments – as described in our full policy – may be limited or removed at the discretion of the Diocese of Raleigh. Moderation actions may include removing or hiding comments, limiting replies or restricting repeat offenders.

Content submitted by users does not represent the official teaching of the Catholic Church or the official position of the Diocese of Raleigh.